On Monday, March 28th, Brigadier Baugh paid us a return visit. He has been spending the last five months visiting the Corps of the Saskatchewan Division. The various

In Simcoe Corps crowds and interest seem on the increase. Several have had a brighter experience and a lot more of these are to be enrolled. One was a Salvationist in the early days. He is Brother Kniffin, over six feet tall, used to be called "Long Division Kniffin."

Another convert talked so much at work that a church member came to the Salvation Army and he got a brighter experience and is more active. He told his workmates he was going to sing a solo, the first time he had sung for over seventeen years. They came to hear him.

Our Hall has been painted inside, and electric lights put in, and other improvements.

Captain Nellie Bird and Lieutenant Everhard have been our Officers over sixteen months and have done well. They firewired on a Sunday for Hespeler. We are all sorry to have them leave. Ensign and Mrs. Strafford are incoming Officers—One of Three.

At night a Memorial Service was held for the late Captain Christy, who was called home last week. Corps Cadet Guardian R. Myall spoke at the service.

The little child which has been left to the father's care was dedicated to God and the Army.

The Band rendered "The Dead March in Saul," while the congregation sang with bowed heads, and the Songsters sang very appropriately, "Take Me Home again." Two solo came to the Mercy Seat—J. E. C.

Mrs. Miller gave a very helpful Holiness address on the Comforter. In the afternoon the Colonel dedicated the Old Salvationist and Mrs. Bond, and gave an instructive talk specially to the Young People. Four converts came to the Mercy Seat in the night meeting.

The Corps Cadets took a prominent part in each service and their singing was much enjoyed. A. M.

TWEEDE

We have just had four new Soldiers enrolled. We deeply regret the farewell of Lieut. Col. Bond, who was only a short time in our midst, she has done faithful work and has won her way into our hearts and been a great blessing in our Corps.

Helpful and Inspiring Easter Meetings—Cheering and Blessing the Prisoners—Sinners Seek Salvation

The Easter services at the 500 were characterized from start to finish by an unusual display of Christlike zeal and godly fervour.

Every heart was fully expectant in the kneel-ditch which was attended by over thirty comrades. Some of the Home League members prepared breakfast for the Hall and other comrades went for a march.

A rousing open-air was conducted followed by a spiritual feast in the Holiness meeting.

At the service in the County Jail two men raised their hands signifying their intention of living better lives whilst three others requested prayers on their behalf.

At night the Rapture Christ once again made His power manifest in the Salvation of three souls and the consecration of eleven comrades.

Brother Jackson, an old Soldier of the Corps, who is visiting the city gave helpful testimonies in the morning and evening services.

ST. JOHN III.

Young People's Work is Making Good Progress

On Sunday and Monday, March 21 and 22, we held our Young People's Annual at St. John III. In the Sunday afternoon meeting Adjutant J. Wells spoke of the splendid advances made in the last year under the leadership of Young People's Sergeant-Major John Ashby.

The Sergeant-Major then spoke of her love for the Young People's work and her desire to see advances made in the work.

A Young People's Quartette and Lieutenant R. E. Parks spoke of the beautiful love for the work.

On Monday night the Young People again proved they were as good as their reputation. With Adjutant Parks as chairman they gave a fine Demonstration consisting of vocal duets, choruses, dialogues, club quizzing, drills and a mouth organ solo.

At the conclusion of the programme Adjutant Parks presented a number of prizes for regular attendance. Our work is advancing splendidly under the leadership of Young People's Sergeant-Major Ashby and her band of workers, and we are all in to "boost our Young People's work."

At St. John

We arrived in St. John on Saturday, March 21st in a heavy fog. Just as we were pulling into the station the tender was met by a serious damage was done. It was soon evident that something serious was afoot. We were met by a young man wearing the delegates badge, and he led a crowd of life-saving Scouts and Guards who had come to escort the visitors to their different quarters. Further indications of coming events.

The meetings for this week-end were held in the St. John Hotel. When the Commissioner and party arrived on the platform it was to find the entire centre of the hotel filled with those who had come to enjoy the meeting. We soon had a large crowd of life-saving Scouts and Guards who had come to escort the visitors to their different quarters. Further indications of coming events.

One of the converts, when being led down by Mrs. Adjutant, asked her to pray for her. She did so and he threw in a package of cigarettes. He went to spend the night with his wife and followed her.

The Band has bought new instruments. The Soloists have been secured and the Hall has been painted. We also have a new piano. The Songsters are doing well under the leadership of Brother Laurie.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAYS

Are Conducted at New Glasgow and St. John by COMMISSIONER RICHARDS—Helpful and Uplifting Meetings Result in 138 Surrenders—22 Apply for Officership

VISIT TO MONCTON AND MEETING WITH NORTH SYDNEY BOARD OF TRADE

Chandler, Brigadier Barr and Adjutant Hodgson gave brief addresses suitable to the occasion. Brigadier Barr, who conducted the proceedings, injected into the same a steady flow of life and vim.

The Commissioner, who smiled his appreciation of all that he saw in front of him, spoke briefly of the pleasure it gave him to be in St. John for this special occasion, making special reference to the unfortunate accidents that had prevented him on two former occasions from realizing his wish to see St. John.

He then spoke of the work of Young People's Days, these being the explosion at Halifax in 1917 and the "E" epidemic in 1918. We closed with faith running high for the Sunday's meetings.

Sunday was bright and sunny and the crowd of young people gathered in the Citadel was a most inspiring one. The attractive uniforms of the splendid corps of Life-Saving Guards present added greatly to the brightness of the scene. Throughout the entire service sessions of young people gave the Commissioner the best of attention and eagerly drank in his wonderful message on the "Seven Lasts."

Full of Interest

The Commissioner, who has been continuously on the go for the last three weeks, gave very convincing evidence of his splendid staying power. He certainly was not tired in his effort to make this, the last of the series, as full of life and interest as the previous ones.

The evening meeting opened up full of promise, and God was surely with us. The Commissioner's message was most appropriate and that God by His Spirit carried the message home to the hearts of those present was manifest by the steady stream of seekers to the Cross.

One after another they came, many of them weeping and in the midst of their surrender were recorded. Of this number fifty-eight sought Salvation and became Officers. The fact that this was the last of the series was a great blessing to the young people offering themselves for Officership.

The final wind-up was of the old-fashioned kind. The Commissioner and party were met by a large crowd of life-saving Scouts and Guards who had come to escort the visitors to their different quarters. Further indications of coming events.

The meetings for this week-end were held in the St. John Hotel. A word of thanks is due to all who have helped to make these days successful and in a special sense this is the case when we think of the Soldier who so splendidly did the catering for the temporal needs of the young people. They are deserving of every praise—J. Barr, Brigadier.

An excellent crowd greeted the Commissioner at Moncton, on Friday, March 26th, every seat being occupied. Lieut-Colonel Morehen, led off with the opening song. Adjutant Barr, who conducted the prayer and Adjutant Hodgson read the Scripture Lesson. Brigadier Barr, who conducted the prayer, and Lieut-Colonel Chandler gave short addresses bringing in a word of personal testimony. The Band gave a selection and Corps Cadet Conn from Springfield soloed.

The Commissioner gave a powerful message which was much appreciated. The Holy Spirit moved upon the people.

After the prayer meeting was entered into with faith and enthusiasm. Two souls came forward to the Mercy Seat. The Corps is making headway under the leadership of Adjutant and Mrs. Ellsworth—W.J.M.

Met Board of Trade

On Tuesday, March 23rd, a number of the members of the North Sydney Board of Trade, and other gentlemen met the Commissioner at a luncheon in the Briton Hotel. Dr. McLean, the President of the Board, was the chairman.

The Commissioner's address was evidently greatly enjoyed and at the close of the address, Mr. McLean, proposed a vote of thanks. Deputy Mayor Beasley, of Sydney, seconded the motion.

Many of the gentlemen expressed their good will towards the Army and promised their support in the future. This was a great encouragement to the Commissioner.

An excellent crowd assembled at North Sydney at night. Mrs. Staff-Comptroller and Mr. Barr, and Staff-Captain Burton read a Scripture portion.

Adjutant Hodgson, Brigadiers Barr and Dr. Brissy and Lieut-Colonel Chandler each spoke briefly. The United Bands played a selection and Adjutant Hodgson soloed.

The Commissioner gave a powerful address which was apparently much enjoyed. This was the closing meeting of the Commissioner's campaign in Cape Breton. It has truly been a time of great blessing.

RAVENSCRAIG, SASK.

The desire of the inhabitants of Ravenscraig was fulfilled on March 24th, when the Officers of Salvation Army met here. Lieutenants Blackwell and Parry and Senior Sergeant-Major Summers were the visitors.

An open-air service was held at 7.30 with a good attendance. The service was held in Arnold's Hall which was packed. A good spirited meeting was held. The message was most impressive and many seemed deeply interested.

The people have asked that their message be given. A Salvation Army outpost and have a meeting at least once a month.

Let us do the will of God, nothing less, nothing more, nothing else. Barriers and limitations are spurs to a man with a purpose.

The Bible never makes religion the most miserable of things. It is a day by day we become more like the thoughts within us.

We are not worse at night; the source of evil begins slowly.

The Chester (Toronto) "Wa Cry" Brigade

The order of this Brigade amount to 505 "Wa Cry" and 110 "Young Soldiers" per week. Undertaken with a view of blessing the people this group is attractive and certainly a titanic job.

Davis, Sister Violet Greenhalgh who was unable to be present is another valuable member of the Brigade. Ensign Ham, the Corps Officer is also in the group.

andier and Mrs. T. Coombs. A good number availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing them.

The addresses of both Brigadier and Mrs. Coombs were a great blessing and an inspiration to all, and will live in the memory of all that were present.

Inspiring meetings were held on Sunday last. From knee drill till the last meeting on the evening, a blessed time was enjoyed. At the close of the meeting two wanderers returned to the fold.

All this week prayer meetings have been held every noon and in the evening. At the meeting on Tuesday, the young men sought and found Salvation. The young converts are making a bold stand for the Lord and are very happy.

The Junior and Company meetings are progressing. There is always a good attendance and lively interest is being taken by the young people.

Lieutenants Peake and Hardy are leading us on and we are praying and believing.—C. R. H.

SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I.

Lieutenant Goodwin, after a three month's stay, has travelled far and wide. He is now in the hands of the Summerville. Lieutenant McGowan is being assisted by Adjutant Green. We held our Young People's Demonstration on March 1st and was well attended. Much praise was given to Lieutenant McGowan. The proceedings went towards cleaning the hall and fixtures for the quarters. Some of our comrades who have been on the sick list are coming to the front again. We have one old veteran yet who got converted the other day. Captain Saunders who in the person of Brother Watson who can be seen beating the drum on the street corner and telling those around how much the Army service he has given to God and pleading with the young folks to get with God—Ava Wilson, Drummer.

ALL UNDER THE BLOOD & FIRE FLAG

INDIA

HOW THE SALVATION ARMY IS FIGHTING DISEASE, DISASTER, AND FAMINE

Among the advances made in the Central Territory during the last three and a half years under the leadership of Colonel and Mrs. Higgins is the formation of the Young Peoples and the Ministry of the Holy Spirit. This has been a very special feature. Young Peoples are voluntary workers, none older than twenty years, who are sent to various parts of the territory to visit and teach the Bible to the heathen. As a result of this work, many of the people in the territory are now Christians.

One member who had to be taught all the time was a woman named Mary. She was a Hindu, and the first was to be taught. She was a Hindu, and the first was to be taught. She was a Hindu, and the first was to be taught.

With the main idea of preventing famine and also of helping to make a scheme for the sinking of irrigation works was launched, and up to date twelve wells, each with a capacity for irrigating twelve acres of land, have been sunk. A number of these are termed memorial wells because the cost has been borne by officers anxious to perpetuate, by timely aid, and—amazing to relate—the cost of the cost per person would not out at five cents.

Another valuable branch of service with which the Colonel's name is associated is known as the "Blind Relief Scheme." Eye diseases are very prevalent in India, and blindness is increasing to an appalling degree. This scheme provides training for our Hospital for the suffering irrespective of caste, and up to the time of the Colonel's departure over 1200 people had been attended by him, and amazing cures had been wrought.

HOLLAND

RELIEVING HOMELESS AND POVERTY STRICKEN VICTIMS OF FLOODS

Devastating floods have visited large areas in Holland. Major Ruitz, who was dispatched to the affected areas for the establishing of relief work, told us stories of homeless and poverty-stricken refugees. One tragic incident occurred in the city of Rotterdam. A mother and child had to crouch in a rowing boat upon the swirling waters. Despite the cold and damp, both mother and child were in a state of safety little worse for the adventure, although the mother was in the clothes of a beggar. The Army has sent the means for the purchase of an outfit for this young mother. The Mayor has cooperated with the Army in the relief of the victims.

The Army's Progress in Japan

Seed-winning and Soldier-making—"An Independent National Asset"—Result of 25 Years of Sacrificial Toil—Advance in Every Branch of Activity—The Rising Status of Womanhood—Daring Experiment as Prelude to Permanent Advance—Echoes of the Territorial Congress

THE Salvation Army flag is one of the most recent emblems of Japan. It is a flag of peace, of love, of mercy, of forgiveness, of redemption. It is a flag that has been raised by a British "War Cry" representative. It is a flag that has been raised by a British "War Cry" representative. It is a flag that has been raised by a British "War Cry" representative.

Mrs. Commissioner Higgins speaking at the opening of a Slum Settlement of Tokyo valuable institutions in Japan—has been enlarged, Prison-Care, Rescue, and Slum operations have been consolidated and extended, and judging from all aspects The Salvation Army has become increasingly powerful as a factor for national righteousness. In fact, it is today regarded as the mightiest soul-saving organization in Japan, and its magnificent Territorial Headquarters in Tokyo, not only stands as a fitting monument to the splendid tollings of the Commissioner, and the loyalty and devotion of the comrades he has honored to command, but it is rightly regarded as significant evidence of the progress of Christianity in the Far East.

The Commissioner waxed most humble over what he termed "the strong and joyful Salvation of our Japanese comrades, and the splendid, loyal service of the Chief Secretary, Colonel Yamamoto, and other Officers. Japanese Salvationists are zealous and jealous for the great cause of Christ the savior, they love the uniform, revel in active service, and while being passionately loyal to their own country, they eagerly watch and rejoice over the world-wide progress of the Organization. They glory in Open-Air Corps, and they are the first to put out the glad message of Salvation, and the people flock in crowds to hear of the dramatic conversions are frequent occurrences.

When it is remembered that Japan is a non-Christian country, and that barely twenty-five years have elapsed since the first band of pioneer Salvationists landed in Tokyo, The Army's present position is nothing short of amazing. Not only are there 112 Corps, the societies and 350 Officers and employees, all with the exception of eleven of Japanese birth, but soldiers are being enrolled in truly gratifying numbers every year. Advance is seen in every other department of Salvation service.

Commissioner and Mrs. de Groot took command of the Territory at the most difficult period of its history. The country was severely affected by the Great War, the fact that Christian countries could be subdued in the name of Liberty and tears came as a shock to many.

missioner made reference to the remarkable welcome accorded to Mrs. Commissioner Higgins. It was long evidence of how substantial is the rising status of womanhood in the Far East.

Until recent years woman was regarded as being concerned only with the domestic side of life. Her entry into public service was viewed with something akin to awe—it was one of the responsibilities of the community, however, were challenged, and experiment was made. Women Officers were commissioned and sent out to command Corps, and they did brilliantly, many of them succeeding where men had failed.

Success in Japan, as elsewhere, brought its own reward, and the idea of woman leaders passed from the experimental stage into a permanent advance, and today there are as many women Officers as men. Acting just as efficiently and with equal acceptance. In these circumstances The General's decision to send a woman-Officer to the Territorial Congress as his representative was a statesmanlike contribution to the great effort to establish equality and equality of woman.

SOUTH AFRICA

ARMY BAND PLAYS AT KRAAL OF A CHIEF—MANY VOLUNTEERS FOR SALVATION

Chief Bangwile, who professed conversion at Durban during the Peace Celebrations (says the South African "War Cry") expressed his desire to have a Salvation Army Band at his kraal, so Brigadier Smith, with nine Bandmen, set out for the benefit of this simple, yet very attentive, and is very courteous. It is a characteristic of much looked for in Newfoundland.

The large map in his office you would think had gone home. The Plan, as the Colonel has a red seal placed against the 90 Corps which comprise his Territory. It is from a great many Corps are already pouring in for the new Commander to pay them a visit, and when they do get a visit they will be disappointed, for those who have heard him in St. John's declare him to be a very practical and interesting speaker. A little touch of humor which he exhibited at his welcome meeting in the Methodist College Hall made him a great part of his Newfoundlander. He referred to himself as being a Devonshire man, and as our comrades will know the fact that Newfoundlanders mostly came from Devonshire and Dorsetshire, hence the title.

The Annual Congress this year will be held by the Territorial Headquarters at the home of Mrs. Martin. SOME IMPRESSIONS

OF Newfoundland and Its New Territorial Commander

St. John's the Capital of Newfoundland is a very busy place. The impression one gets as he steps out of the train on arrival and starts to walk east on Water Street. The Salvation Army is indeed a live factor in that city, with its three flourishing Corps, a large Day School and a splendid stone building, the two accommodating 350 children. Then there is a Maternity Home, with $100,000, big in the rank for a new building which when erected will be the finest in the Dominion. There is also a poor mat. Shelter, which is always crowded, and in addition to this there is a Training Home for Field Officers.

Patience and Courtesy

Colonel Martin, the first Territorial Commander, with his kind and thing, quite as strange as one would expect, seeing that he came direct from the hub in London, England, for he has spent many years as an Officer in Sweden, which is a very mountainous country, and is a very courteous. SPRINGDALE

On Friday, March 12th, we had the joy of seeing three seekers at the Cross. On Sunday the Citadel of the Cross was the scene of a meeting two souls came forward. The Tuesday night Holiness meeting was indeed exciting. The power of the men are in the lumber woods and can only be with us on Sundays. Sergeant-Major Saunders has to walk seven miles.

On Friday, March 12th, we had the joy of seeing three seekers at the Cross. On Sunday the Citadel of the Cross was the scene of a meeting two souls came forward. The Tuesday night Holiness meeting was indeed exciting. The power of the men are in the lumber woods and can only be with us on Sundays. Sergeant-Major Saunders has to walk seven miles.

THE SALVATION WAR IN NEWFOUNDLAND

SOME IMPRESSIONS

OF Newfoundland and Its New Territorial Commander

St. John's the Capital of Newfoundland is a very busy place. The impression one gets as he steps out of the train on arrival and starts to walk east on Water Street. The Salvation Army is indeed a live factor in that city, with its three flourishing Corps, a large Day School and a splendid stone building, the two accommodating 350 children. Then there is a Maternity Home, with $100,000, big in the rank for a new building which when erected will be the finest in the Dominion. There is also a poor mat. Shelter, which is always crowded, and in addition to this there is a Training Home for Field Officers.

Patience and Courtesy

Colonel Martin, the first Territorial Commander, with his kind and thing, quite as strange as one would expect, seeing that he came direct from the hub in London, England, for he has spent many years as an Officer in Sweden, which is a very mountainous country, and is a very courteous. It is a characteristic of much looked for in Newfoundlander.

The large map in his office you would think had gone home. The Plan, as the Colonel has a red seal placed against the 90 Corps which comprise his Territory. It is from a great many Corps are already pouring in for the new Commander to pay them a visit, and when they do get a visit they will be disappointed, for those who have heard him in St. John's declare him to be a very practical and interesting speaker. A little touch of humor which he exhibited at his welcome meeting in the Methodist College Hall made him a great part of his Newfoundlander. He referred to himself as being a Devonshire man, and as our comrades will know the fact that Newfoundlanders mostly came from Devonshire and Dorsetshire, hence the title.

The only cure that we have in Colonel and Mrs. Martin real true friends—Traveller.

CHAPTER XXXV.

The miners had considerable broken down owing to strikes and differences between the mine owners and the men, and having nothing to occupy their minds many of them became idle and abandoned because of this. Bob, who was a member, and as the months sped swiftly by rapidly degenerated. Having no purpose and being absolutely without ambition, he became uninterested and "dried," as the miners called it. One day, he was taken to a concentration camp, where he was treated with kindness. He was later released and returned to his home.

SEEKING FOR GOLD

Meeting Bob one day he began to talk "gold" to him, and after getting him interested, proposed that they start a company on a prospective strike. They took their packs and went to the mountains. They were a number of miles from their homes when they were discovered by the government.

At arrival at Alkali, it was with considerable difficulty they shook out their beds. Leaving camp, they eventually did so, and started on their journey to the creek. They were then taken to a concentration camp, where he was treated with kindness. He was later released and returned to his home.

His companions rushed to his side and on looking at the contents of his pack, they too began to shout and shake one another by the hand. Turning suddenly, they saw the survivor and Bob, and drawing their rifles, they called upon them to halt. They did so, but assured the three miners that they were prospectors who had just "come in." After some discussion the men seemed satisfied, and eventually yielded them to inspect the contents of the pack. It was certainly a remarkable find, and the prospect of the claim continued to yield such a large percentage of the precious metal as the pan contained, there was no doubt that the fortune of the owners was made.

The men seem to believe that this was already so, and literally shook with excitement. The "miner" proved congenial and Bob and the survivor looked at each other with satisfaction as if they too shared in the men's good fortune. They decided to stake out a claim as near as possible to the "miner" and the night overtook them before they reached their destination. They partook of the evening meal, and after a long camp-fire chat decided, owing to the apparent close proximity of wild animals, to sleep in one of the large tents. Selecting one of the most suitable for their purpose, they climbed up and made themselves as comfortable as the circumstances would permit.

As dawn was breaking they woke feeling very stiff and cold, and gradually wore off, and by the time they had prepared and eaten breakfast, their customary illness returned, and they again set off. China Creek was a small stream situated at the base of a mountain, and the immediate surroundings were most beautiful. As the prospectors moved up the mountain, and dried his snow-covered summit a deep crimson. So wonderful was the effect that, although their minds were full of thought of gold, and the possibility of their fortune, they felt moved to comment upon it.

They began to shout and shake one another by the hand.

Local Officers. Bandmen and Singers.

The Riverside Citadel on Good Friday evening was the scene of a grand festival of music, song and descriptive Bible readings, read "From the Slaves to the Cross," given by the Band. Lieut. Crooks and Mrs. Oway were present, and a Junior Soldier in uniform. There was an unusual programme, being in four parts, all bearing on the life of Christ and the events of the Good Friday. The "The Great Love of Christ," was taken up with some verses.

Brother Boyce was converted at West Toronto eleven years ago. At the wedding Brother Venham, who had led him to the Cross, spoke on behalf of the Band. For three and a half years Bandman Boyce served overseas in the 12th Battalion and on his return home reconverted his life to God. He has proved himself a good Bandman and Soldier and the Corps wishes him and his wife God's richest blessing.

A very pleasing evening was spent at the Toronto Temple on Monday, March 24, when the Band and Singers rendered an enjoyable programme. An interesting item was the presentation of a new brass instrument to the Band by Mr. Charles Robertson, a returned soldier, who stated that he was a prisoner in Germany where he spent three years and eight months, varied by several attempts to escape. He presented God the Father and the Young People's Association, who formerly was a Sergeant-Major in the Imperial Army, was present. Our Drummer, Bandman David T. Robertson, who was in the army at Cambrai, received the new drum from Mr. Charles Robertson on behalf of the Band.

The total income for the evening was $132.40. Several of our Bandmen have been sick with the "flu," namely: Bandmen McGowan and Herb Green. Glad to report they are progressing favorably. A. Avis.

Weyburn Band held its first Band week-end since the war, on March 27, 28, and 29. The services all day Sunday were led by the Bandmen. The Sunday morning service was led by Band Sergeant Andrews and Br. Ver Guey, the inside meeting was led also by these two brothers. The Bible lesson was taken by Band Sergeant Andrews. The afternoon services were conducted by Bandmaster W. Worrall. The night service was led by Sergeant Andrews, Bandmaster Bert Biggs. God's presence was felt all through the week-end. The Band sang a solo in its usual pleasing style. The Bible reading was taken by the Deputy Bandmaster. On Monday night a musical festival was given.

The St. Thomas Band and Songsters held and spent a very enjoyable evening together in the form of a banquet and a musical wind-up, which proved to be a great success. One of the items was the first appearance of the Male Quartette arranged by Bandmaster Jones, which was a very enjoyable and a great help to the Corps. Captain and Mrs. Chambers who had been away on account of ill health are again returning to the

On Sunday afternoon, March 28, the Peterboro Band was presented with a baritone and a euphonium. These instruments were purchased by the Young People's Association, who were given to two of the Bandmen that were having our first number of years and have done faithful service. The euphonium was presented to Bandman Boorman, and the baritone to the Corps Sergeant-Major, Fred Gandy.
